

Tax Advances

Taxpayers are required to make quarterly advance payments for Corporate Income Tax (CIT), Municipal Business Tax (MBT) and Net Wealth Tax (NWT).

How are the tax advances determined?

Each year, taxpayers receive a tax advance schedule detailing the required advances for Corporate Income Tax (CIT), Municipal Business Tax (MBT) and Net Wealth Tax (NWT), if applicable.

The amount of these tax advances is based on information available to the Luxembourg tax authorities (LTA), such as the latest tax assessment.

Following each tax assessment, the LTA automatically updates the requested tax advances according to the most recent tax charges calculated.

When the tax assessment is issued, any tax advances previously paid for a given year are automatically deducted from the assessed tax charges, with only the remaining balance, if any, to be settled.

What is the deadline for the tax advance payment?

Tax advances must be paid quarterly, before the following deadlines:

CIT	MBT	NWT
10 March	10 February	10 February
10 June	10 May	10 May
10 September	10 August	10 August
10 December	10 November	10 November

In the event of late payment, the LTA will impose a 0.6% monthly interest charge starting from the month following the missed due date.

To avoid missed payments, and depending on the company's cash flow, it is also possible to pay the entire tax advance amount or multiple installments in a single payment before the quarterly deadlines.

What information should be included on the payment order?

To ensure correct allocation of payments by LTA, please include the following details on the payment order:

1. Taxpayer's tax number (11 digits)
2. Tax category (e.g. CIT, MBT, NWT)
3. Relevant period

For example, to pay the NWT advance for the first quarter of 2026, use the following format in the payment communication: 2020 1234 567 - NWT advance - Q1 2026.

Please note that tax advances are aligned with the calendar year, regardless of the taxpayer's accounting year-end.
