

Supporting entrepreneurship

Grant Thornton Luxembourg recognises the role of Small and Medium Enterprises (SMEs) as a major engine of economic growth and diversification. We are dedicated to support SMEs by providing solutions to help them face the challenges of a modernised environment, digital transformation and environmental and demographic changes.

The background features several thin, flowing purple lines that create a sense of movement and depth. These lines form various shapes, including a large, rounded diamond in the upper center and several sweeping, curved lines that frame the text area at the bottom.

“Being active in the SME market for over 30 years, Grant Thornton Luxembourg has helped a multitude of entrepreneurs to become more sustainable through the right advice, long-term business guidance. By listening to our clients and being genuinely interested in their businesses, we strive to be the stand-out advisor to SMEs and privately-owned businesses.”

A guide to our SME services

Business Advisory / Upgrade to the digital world

- Implementing the right software for your SME, integrated with the accounting, is the basis for a proper financial analysis and optimised decision-taking.
- Integrating most important processes (billing, payments, debt-collection, inventory, CRM, HR, expense reporting) allows to shift human resources from repetitive & redundant tasks to the focus on growing your business.
- Our specialists will help you implementing the tool fitting the size, complexity and budget of your business.

Audit and Assurance

- Our team provides you with a full range of audit and assurance services including audit of stand-alone annual accounts, audit of consolidated annual accounts, agreed-upon procedures engagement, forensic audit, supervisory auditor (Commissaire), auditor to the liquidation, internal audit, review, compilation, IFRS conversion and other assurance engagements.

Payroll and Human Resources Administration

- With continuously changing environments, payroll is one of the very challenging responsibilities companies face each year.
- People are the most valuable assets to any organisation and the transfer of the HR tasks to an outside service provider can help boost an organisation's productivity, standardise processes and cut costs.

Restructuring and transmitting of businesses

- Transmitting an SME or a family-owned business is a turning point in the life of entrepreneurs involving
- relationships between families and shareholders and sets the stage for future strategies. Clear focus needs to be set on perpetuating the value of the organisation and transmitting values and legacy.
- With our specialists in areas such as valuation, business consulting and tax, Grant Thornton can assist you to secure and organise such transmissions, by assessing opportunities and by designing customised transmission plans.

Business Set-up/Business Plans/ Access to Finance

- The right organisational and financial set-up and compliance with local regulations form the basis for a smooth start into business.

Tax Advisory & Compliance (income tax, VAT and other direct or indirect taxes)

- The tax environment constantly keeps entrepreneurs and freelancers on their toes, with tax issues playing a central role in nearly every business decision.

Bookkeeping/Financial Accounting

- Financial figures can be the basis for many business decisions. Only those with clearly structured numbers and a good overview of their business can identify opportunities and weaknesses early enough and react in a timely manner.

“We strongly believe in the switch to operational intelligence solutions allowing our clients to stay focused on business. Our digital office solutions for your SME simplify your day-to-day management and allow you to manage your financial figures in an efficient and smart way – where you are whenever you want.”
